JAP PROPOSALS ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE

CHINESE GOVERNMENT MAKES REPLY ON THE SHANTUNG SITUATION

Reply Declares That Japanese Show Apparent Misunderstanding of the Text of the Chinese Note of October 5—The Negotiations May Be Carried on in Washington

(By The Associated Press)

PEKING, Nov. 4.—In a two thousand word note the Chinese government has replied to the latest proposals of the Japanese government concerning the Shantung situation. It states that the Japanese proposals are not acceptable. The Japanese memorandum to China, of October 19, the note declares, shows an apparent misunderstanding and misinterpretation of the text of the Chinese note of October 5, thereby necessitating by the Chinese government covering past facts and an unchanged viewpoint on the part of China.

"The summary of the Japanese government's proposed basis of settlement," the memorandum continues, "is altogether too remote from the hopes and expectations of the Chinese government and people who therefore are obliged to wait patiently an opportunity suitable to Japan for a reconsideration of her position.

"Regarding the statement that Dr. Yen, (the Chinese foreign minister) last May formally expressed to Mr. Obata (the Japanese minister to China, a desire to see a conecrted project presented by the Japanese government, couched in illust and satisfactory terms, such as would be simultaneously deemed fair by all nations it must be observe d that Mr. Obata before leaving for Japan asked Dr. Yen's personal view regarding Shantung and that therefore Dr. Yen's answer was purely personal and not a farmal statement by the Chinese foreign minister.

Regarding the allegation in the Japanese memorandum that the Chinese government authorities had confidentially presented to the Japanese government a certain project for settlement of the question and unofficially expressed readiness to open negotiations with Japan, this probably was due to a misunderstanding arising from a repetition of a personal conversation between General Banzai (Japanese military adviser to the Chinese government) and Councillor Yu, and cannot logically be referred to as ground for the presentation of Japanese proposals.

The Chinese memorandum of October 5, points out the difference in views between China and Japan regarding the principles underlying the Japanese proposals and the contents and terms thereof. If the Japanese government understood these differences she would surely have proposed a more substatial and more just project, which would universally be recognized as fair. It is most regrettable however, that the Japanese government has given no sign of concessions, while maintaining that China openly is unwilling to proceed with negotiations. The Japanese government long has promised to withdraw the Japanese troops along the Kia-Chau, Tsinan-Fu railway and the Chinese government has urged an early evacuation. But thus far, the evacuation has not begun. Therefore China is most desirous that the Japanese troops shall be recalled at an early date leaving to China the resposibility of policing the railway.

The Chinese government and newspapers incline to direct negotiations between the two counutries and express the hope that Japan soon will present a more acceptable formula for a settlement of the controversy. The Chinese people are still unfavorable to negotiations but the belief is expressed that they can be persuaded not to oppose them if they are held outside China and Japan. Washington frequently is suggested as the seat of the negotiations.

EXPECT TO BRING OUT SALE TAX AT SOME LATER DATE

May be Urged to Pay Proposed Five Ply Soldier Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The sales tax as a source of federal revenue at this time was definitely rejected today by the senate but there was further evidence that it was the purpose of Republican congressional leaders to bring it forth later as a means of raising funds to finance the proposed "five-way" plan for adjusted compensation for former service men.

The majority today against the Smoot amendment to the tax revision bill proposing a business sales tax of one half of one per sent was even larger than was that last night against the Smoot one per cent manufacturers' sales tax. The vote today was 46 to 25 as compared to 43 to 25 last night. As was the case with the manufacturers' tax, the Democrats voted solidly against the business tax. They were joined by 22 Republicans, three of whom Fernald of Maine, Gooding of Idaho and Keyes of New Hampshire, voted for the manufacturers' tax. Six Republicans who did not vote last night, Brandegee, Conn, Calder, New York; Dillingham, Vermont; Hale, Maine; Harreld, Oklahoma, and Johnson, California—supported the amendment today.

Three Republicans who supported the manufacturers tax did not vote today. They were Edge, New Jersey, Ernest, Kentucky and Warren, Wyoming. Counting senators who were paired it was estimated that the maximum vote which would have been cast for the sales tax was 34, or some six less than it had been estimated would support it. Some senators thought that the debate resulted in the loss of some votes.

Fail to Limit Debate.

"The senate continued consideration of the tax at a session tonight. Senators sought to obtain unanimous consent for a final vote at 3 p. m., Tuesday with debate limited after 3 p. m., Monday, but the plan fell thru after some debate.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, said he saw no reason for delaying enactment of the bonus legislation and in this connection paid his respects to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee and other house leaders, who he said, were undetaking to dictate what the senate should or should not do.

Announcing his support of the sales tax Senator Johnson, Republican, California, assailed the pending bill as one seeking to continue a tax scheme which requires an army of experts to "teach honest people haw to pay what is due the government and which creates another army of experts to teach the disronest how to cheat the government."

She is authorized to use any of the principal that may be necessary. At her death the property is to be divided in equal shares between the three sons, Fred, Carl and Paul May. The will was made June 25, 1920, with William Hairgrove and Tilla Hairgrove as the witnesses to the signature.

SPECIAL SENATE COMMITTEE WILL PROBE CHARGES

To Investigate Allegations of Senator Watson

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Investigation by a special senate committee of the charges of Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers in France were hanged without trial and shot by officers' orders, was assured today when the senate after three hours' discussion immediately recorded the inquiry. The special committee, headed, by Senator Brandagee, Republican, Conn., will meet next Monday to determine upon procedure but it is expected that several days will then elapse before hearings are begun while Senator Watson is gathering his evidence.

Another speech by the Georgia senator in support of his charges, wrangling between senators over wording of the inquiry resolutions and parliamentary mix-ups preceded the final order for the investigation to proceed. The senate finally accepted a new and amended resolution declaring the inquiry and another empowering the pecial committee to subpoena persons and papers.

The program announced yesterday for a motion to discharge the committee did not materialize. Instead Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, proposed the new resolution which was adopted with an amendment declaring that the inquiry should be into Senaor Watson's charges and not an investigation of the senator himself. From the resolution giving the committee power to act in the case another amendment struckout a stateemnt relative to inviting Senator Watson to appear before the committee.

The committee's course in this respect members said would be determined later. The fight over the senator's charges opened today when the senate met at 10 o'clock an hour early to take up the affairs. Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, began the debate with a criticism of Senator Watson for presenting photographs yesterday of a gallows, where a soldier had been executed after a court martial, the New Jerey senator said for a "brutal attack upon a 7 year old girl." Senator Edge, declared the incident could not be "camouflaged" and that the issue was as to the truth of the charges of illegal hangings.

In a spirited reply, Senator Watson said his information regarding 21 alleged hangings of soldiers without trial came from a former soldier who said he had seen the gallows and had been told by a guard that this number was hanged. His informant Senator Watson said would face the committee and answer all questions.

DELEGATES ARE SHOCKED AT NEWS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The Japanese delegation to the armament conference was thrown into sorrow and confusion, and official Washington including the delegates from other lands to the conference was profoundly shocked today by the announcement from Tokio that Takashihara, the Japanese premier had been assassinated.

President Harding expressed his horror at the outrage. It was an unhappy discordant note, he said in a formal staement, at the time when all were seeking to come together around the conference table and add to the good understanding and good will thruout the world. Secretary Hughes went immediately to the Japanese embassy and expressed his condolences to Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador.

IRISH WAR WOULD COST HUGE SUM

London, Nov. 4.—The sequence to a breakdown in the Irish conference would be a war which would cost 250,000,000 pounds sterling, declared Frederick G. Kellaway, postmaster general addressing a political meeting at Rushden today. He believed it probable that 50,000 lives would have to be sacrificed to conquer Ireland should such a war be waged.

The community clinic was held yesterday in the Social Service league rooms on West Morgan street, with Dr. C. E. Black in charge. Six children received free examinations and were prescribed for.

Indianapolis Pays Its Tribute to Foch

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov.—Citizens of Indianapolis and many Indiana cities and towns today paid homage to Mashal Foch in one of the greatest demonstrations ever witnessed here. Official guest of the American Legion whose national headquarters are located here practically the entire popiation of the city turned out to welcome the allied commander. An imposing feature of the day's entertainment was the dedication of a site for the proposed state war memorial building which took place at sunset. A stone from the Marne bridge at Chateau Thierry, which is to form part of the cornerstone of the memorial edifice was swung into place by Marcus Sonnetag, president of the memorial board. The site for the momorial was formally presented to the American Legion by Governor Warren T. McCray of Indiana and accepted on part of the legion by National Commander Randolph MacNider.

Marshal Foch in a brief address said he was proud to participate in the placing the cornerstone of the memorial for those whom he had commanded and who had died in the great struggle.

A formal dinner this evening was followed by a mass meeting at which addresses were made by Governorr McCray and Mayo Charles W. Jewett of Indianapolis. Marshal Foch responded briefly. Marshal Foch deaprted at midnight for Chicago.

GOES TO FILE SMALL-CURTIS RECORDS TODAY

Will Ask Court to Set Hearing of Case Next Monday

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Records in the Small-Curtis embezzlement case will be filed in the Lake county circuit court at Waukegan tomorrow. This was the announcement of Charles Koehn, circuit clerk of Sangamon county, as he left for Chicago tonight, enroute to the seat of the coming trial of Governor Small and Vernon Curtis, Grant Park banker, on charges of misappropriation of state funds.

State's Attorney C. F. Mortimer also left tonight for Chicago, but said he did not intend to go to Waukegan either tomorrow or next Monday, when his chief assistent, Edward Pree, will appear before Judge Claire C. Edwards, to ask an early setting of the trial as an answer to Governor Small's accusation that the prosecution was using dilatory tactics to prolong the case.

James H. Wilkerson, assistant attorney-general will probably accompany Mr. Pree to Waukegan, while C. C. Le Forgee, of Decatur, and Werner W. Schroeder, of counsel for the defense, will likely appear.

Reports here that the defense had circulated in Lake county, buttons bearing the inscription, "Len Small wants justice," brought the following retort from State's Attorney Mortimer:

BEATTY ON HIS WAY PREPARE FOR FOCH

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Chicago today bade farewell to Admiral David Beatty, first sea lord of the British admiralty, informally entertained Lieutenant General Baron Alfonse Jacques, commander in chief of the Belgian army and prepared to extend a rousing welcome to Marshal Foch tomorrow.

The tri-color of France tonight vied with the Stars and Stripes in lending gala attire to the loop, Chicago's business and financial district where the most stirring demonstration since the close of the war is expected tomorrow when the French general is escorted thru the district.

Marshal Foch is scheduled to arrive here at 9 o'clock in the morning from Indianapolis and will be escorted by the reception committee and a detachment of cavalry to Grant Park where he will be formally welcomed by Governor Len Small, William Hale Thompson and others.

Following a reception by the French consul and a French society, he will speak in the evening at a mass meeting.

On Sunday he will be the guest of the Knights of Columbus and the principal event will be a dinner tendered in his honor by the supreme officers and directors of the organization.

PREMIER HARA OF JAPAN WAS KILLED FRIDAY

Stabbed by Demented Youth in Tokio Railroad Station

(By The Associated Press)

TOKIO, Nov. 4.—Premier Hara was fatally stabbed in the breast today, at the railroad station in Tokio.

He died an hour later. The assassin, who is nineteen years old, and demented, was arrested.

Repeated attempts have been made at Tokio to overthrow the Hara cabinet. Kenseikai or opposition party, under the presidency of Viscount Kato, accused the ministry with incompetency and failure in handling the empire's relations with foreign countries. Mr. Hara was particularly attacked on account of his Siberian policy, which was declared to be vacillating and financially ruinous. The opposition demanded the immediate withdrawal of the Japanese troops from Siberia.

The Shantung negotiations and the collapse of the Darien conference, at which Japan hoped to make a working agreement with the far-eastern republic at Chita, have tended, in the opinion of some observers, to augment the division between the political parties, who also hold different views as to the probable results of the Washington conferences. The status of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is also another factor, entering into the general situation.

Conservative Japanese newspapers counselled Mr. Hara to come personally to Washington and direct the cause of Japan. Apparently Mr. Hara decided that he could be more useful at Tokio, as being in a better position to obtain the support of all the groups behind the throne for his Washington policies.

ASK COURT TO RECONSIDER CASE

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Attorney General Brundage and State's Attorney Crowe of Cook county today petitioned the supreme court to reconsider its technical reversal of the case of Anna M. Heisler, convicted in Chicago of the murder of Lena Benes by an illegal operation. The higher court two weeks ago reversed the criminal court of Cook county on the grounds that evidence showed the operation while attempted, had not been completed. In its opinion the supreme court held that its reversal did not prevent prosecution of Mrs. Heisler for murder by attempting to commit an illegal operation on the Benes girl.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The call of an army bugle sounding "attention" will bring the gathering at Arlington National cemetery to its feet at noon, on Armistice Day to stand two minutes in silence as a memorial to America's Unknown Dead from France. For te same period a similar pause in the nation's life everywhere, by proclamation of the president will testify to the country's regard for its nameless soldiers in France.

The detailed program for the services marking the burial of the unknown dead at the memorial amphitheater in the Arlington cemetery was made public today by the war department. To conclude the period of silence, the Marine band will lead the audience in "America" and the address of President Harding, the only address to be delivered over the caske will then be made. A quarte from the Mteropolitan Opera company of New York will follow with the hymn "The Supreme Sacrifice."

GOOD NEWS FOR THE MARRIED MEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Prices of women's clothing next spring will be 25 to 33 1-3 per cent lower than last spring through immediate return to piece work in the garment-making trades, said a statement today by the Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Protective association. The proposal to abandon the present weekly wage and restore the piece work payments, is opposed by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, the members of which are preparing to take a strike referendum. The manufacturers' statement declared the forecasted reductions answered charges by Benjamin Schesinger, head of the union, that the manufacturers' aim is to hit the buying public by increasing prices through a return to the "piece work basis."

PART OF INJUNCTION APPLYINGTOCHECKOFF SUSPENDED BY COURT

Decision Made by the United States Court of Appeals at Chicago Yesterday—Union Leaders See Reopening of the Entire Case—Will Help Hold the Miners in Line

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The "checkoff" system of holding union dues and assessments from coal miners' pay against which an injunction was handed down by Judge A. B. Anderson of Indianapolis, will continue until further order of the United States court of appeals, the court held today in suspending that part of the injunction applying to the checkoff. An appeal hearing was granted the union for Wednesday, Nov. 16.

W. A. Glasgow of Philadelphia as counsel for the union, presented the history of the case briefly. The injunction, he said, was a virtual demand that a legal contract be broken. He pointed out that the checkoff was a matter of contract between the miners' locals and the operators with the consent of the individual miner.

He declared it was beyond the power of the international union to prevent disturbances by locals and said it was his belief that an immediate appeal hearing of the litigation was the only means of averting "interruption of the regular supply of coal."

In the court's decision Judge Baker said the court through the November 16 date, would meet the exigencies of the situation and Mr. Glasgow agreed with him.

The union wage agreement included the checkoff system, by which union dues and assessment were to be collected from the miners and paid to the union by the operator.

Mr. Glasgow in outlining the litigation, told the court, that the bill charged that this checkoff system was a part of the conspiracy to unionize West Virginia.

Union leaders professed to see in the court's action, a re-opening of the entire case and attorneys for the mine workers said tonight they would present all the testimony presented at the hearing before Judge Anderson to prove that the case had not been handled thoroughly.

The action today, union leaders said, would do much to clear up the labor situation in the mining industry and would help to hold in line miners who had been quitting work without authority. Operators, on the other hand, said they saw in the action of the court of appeals, only a delay of the final issue. The writ of injunction issued by Judge Anderson forebade the operators to withhold from the miners' pay union dues and assessments, as the operator had agreed with the unions to do. Union officials asserted that compliance by the operators with the decision of the court would precipitate a strike.

Lewis Gratified

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, had not heard of the decision of the United States court of appeals, in Chicago, suspending that art of Judge Anderson's injunction referring to the checkoff system, until he reached Springfield tonight from Indianapolis, and was informed of the decision by the Associated Press correspondent. Asked for a statement, Mr. Lewis said:

"I am deeply gratified with the court's action and think it will go a long way toward allaying the present disturbed conditions in the mining industry."

SETTLEMENT OF IRISH QUESTION RESTS ON CRAIG

This is Belief Now Being Expressed in London

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Developments in the negotiations towards an Irish settlement now are understood to hinge on the conferences which Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, will have in the next few days with Premier Lloyd George and Sir Edward Carson.

A special meeting was held by the Ulster cabinet in Belfast today prior to the departure of Sir James for London. He will spend the week-end with his son at Eton, meeting the prime minister, it is expected, on Monday.

At Irish headquarters today it was stated that the British representatives and the Sinn Feiners had reached a measure of accord that promised a solution of all issues and that Ulster now was as great a stumbling block in the path of the negotiations from the government's point of view, as from that of the Sinn Fein.

He refused, it was stated in Irish quarters, that the determination of the Sinn Feiners not to accept the principle of allegiance to the British crown remains unshaken. It is intimated, however, that a formula has been agreed upon bridging that difficulty whereby Ireland would not be designated as a British dominion but as an associate nation.

It is further stated that a solution of the Ulster problem must come if it comes at all thru Ulster's recognition of the principle of unity in Ireland.

WANT REHEARING IN BANKER'S CASE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—The Illinois Supreme Court which recenily sustained the conviction of Oliver P. Paisley, James T. Pailsey and their aged father, William H. Pailsey, Chicago bankers, for receiving deposits in their North Shore Savings bank in 1916, while the bank was insolvent, was today petitioned to re-hear the case.

The elder Paisley was fined $180 and his sons were sentenced to the penitentiary. The Pailsevs operated a string of banks in Chicago including the Broadway State Bank, one of the Lorimer institutions which they took over in 1914.

They were convicted in the criminal court of Cook county in March, 1920.

It's still difficult to fathom what is behind the row between State's Attorney Crowe and Chief of Police Fitzmorris in Chicago. Mr. Crowe is considered attorney by virtue of Mayor Thompson's support it was the mayor who appointed the chief of police. Possibly the facts in this family row will be later divulged.

This is "good wrapping" month, advocated by railroad and express companies. This matter of advocating better wrapping is not a mere fad, for statistics abundantly prove that carelessness in this regard causes some extensive losses. This is true both of freight and express packages. Persons who make shipments, large and small, can aid in a worth while movement if they give attention to the proper packing of their shipments.

Jacksonville receives a lot of advertising thru the football teams of Illinois college and the Jacksonville high school. It has been very noticable that with passing years the public interest in sports at these two institutions has been greatly increased. The city is proud when the players of either team win and not at all sure that hard luck didn't cause the result when the teams lose.

The regular Morgan county election for members of the county board will be held next Tuesday. Constables and justices of the people will also be chosen in a number of precincts. However, there is danger that a very light vote will be cast and therein lies the danger for Mr. Mawwson. As a matter of good citizenship men and women of this county should show their interest by going to the polls next Tuesday.

The law sometimes suggested disfranchising those persons who thru carelessness fail to vote would not be a bad thing. But the need for such a law will disappear if citizens will but meet the duties that the right of franchise gives them.

WHAT MONEY WILL DO

President Rammelkamp says that 400 students of Illinois college have been aided in the past five years thru the 200,000 fund given to the institution by Hobart Williams. When these figures are considered in connection with the fact that Mr. Williams distributed $10,000,000 for philanthropic and educational work, one gets an impressive viewpoint of the great good that can come from a fortune devoted to such endeavors.

Certainly is must have been a great satisfaction to Mr. Williams during the final years of his life to realize something of the good he was doing—a far greater satisfaction than there could have been in contemplating the division of his milons after his reath, and possible legal wrangles that might have diverted the funds from the channel that he approved.

ECONOMY METHODS USED

An examination of the county records will show that extensive savings have been made during the past year by the Morgan county board. Frank L. Mawson as a member of the board for the year has joined with his associates in an effort to handle the county's affairs in such a way that it may be relieved from the burden of debt. It has of course not been possible to accomplish the whole task during the year, but some very decided steps toward the goal have been taken.

The voters of the county should remember this fact when they go to the polls next Tuesday and should return Mr. Mawson for a three year period.

The sudden death of Roy Hamilton came as a shock to the community. Thursday he was in perfect health and his friends could hardly realize that death at the hospital had followed the accident. The deceased was a young man of fine character and the members of the family have the sympathy of the community.

Mrs. Albert Weeder held a public sale, of personal property at her farm east of Winchester Friday. Livestock and farm implements brought satisfactory prices. Mrs. Weeder and children expect to soon become residents of Winchester.

CATCH THE RATS

A gentleman remarked yesterday that the business houses of the city were more or less infested with rat and thought that a combined effort might be made which would help thin out the rodents. He says there is a kind of a poison which causes the body of the rat to shrivel without odor and it might be used with good effect, though he was not selling the stuff.

WILL EXPERIMENT WITH CEMENT ROAD

Will Destroy Road Next Spring to Determine Most Satisfactory Mixtures

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By the A. P.)—A strip of Illinois' new cement road will be smashed by heavy trucks next spring with state and federal engineers as interested spectators of the destruction.

This will not be an expose of Illinois' inefficiency in road building. Instead it will be one of the most intensified experimental tests of hard rocks ever made in the United States.

Plans for breaking up part of a two and one-half miles stretch of road near Springfield have been completed by state and federal highway officials to determine the most satisfactory mixture of materials for building cement roads.

The road was built for experiment purposes. It varies in thickness throughout the two and one-half miles straightaway. Starting at the thin and heavy, trucks will be driven over the road to test its strength. Loads will be increased as breaks occur. The heaviest load will be greatly in excess of the maximum allowed under Illinois Highway laws.

It had originally been planned to hold the tests this fall but the engineers decided the experiment would be a better criterion if the road was allowed to stand through the winter.

State and federal highway engineers co-operated in building the road. Highway officials believe the test will be invaluable in road building of the state and nation.

BIRTHS

A GOOD YIELD OF CORN

Homer Wood had a field of corn this season which averaged seventy bushels to the acre, a good sample and now in the crib. It was Reid Yellow Dent variety and was cultivated five times, mostly with a motor cultivator. The field is three years out of virgin sod, but Homer will raise corn on it only once more before he changes it. Ordinarily he changes all his crops or fields annualy but this field is so strong that he means to raise one more crop on it and then rotate with oats, clover and wheat.

LINOIS COLLEGE SMOTHERS MONMOUTH

ue and White Team Defeats Visitors by Score of 38 to 7—Brilliant Team Work on Both Offence and Defense Featured Local's Game.

In a game marked by brilliant fensive and defensive work Illi-ois College defeated Monmouth Illinois field Friday afternoon a score of 38 to 7.

Illinois seemed to have recov-ed the form she displayed in the ormal game and was there with e old punch when it was needed. onmouth showed a good team t for the most part she was un-ble to pierce the Illinois defense d used a forward passing game aring the last period that gained me ground.

The outstanding feature of the ntest was the brilliant work of apt. Cully of Illinois. He did erything that a man could be pected to do in a football game. n offense he tore great holes in e Monmouth line and skirted eir ends for big gains. He also id deadly tackling on defense nd grabbed a Monmouth pass hich he ran back thru the entire onmouth team a distance of 40 rds for a touchdown. Cully lso showed his versatility by cking a field goal from the 30 rd line.

Thurmon, Rogers and Burrus lso did excellent work in carry-g the ball on offense and broke p Monmouth passes time and gain. On defense Weber did me as fine tackling as has been en on Illinois field in some time fellon and Witaschek at the ends lbelin and Reid at tackle, Rob-rts and center and Gunn at the ther guard also played corking ames. In fact the Harmon ma-hine looked like a real football am. That kind of football gainst Eureka should win and e same kind against Millikin ill make that team step fast to e on the long end of the score.

For Monmouth the work of Wells at tackle and L. Wallace at uard was first class on defense. laycomb, Anderson and Glan-ille did good work on the offense or Monmouth.

First Score Comes Early.

Illinois' first score came after few minutes play. Monmouth icked off to Illinois and after alling to gain Cully punted. Mon-outh tried a forward pass that ully intercepted. By straight otball with Rodgers, Cully, hurmon and Burrus carrying the all it was worked steadily down he field. Cully going over for a ouchdown and kicking goal.

Illinois kicked off and soon orced Monmouth to kick. After thirty yard run by Cully on a ke punt Monmouth intercepted forward pass, but immediately umbled and Illinois recovered. llinois put the ball on the two ard line with an end run by hurmon and a forward pass and ully carried the ball over and icked goal. The quarter ended ith the ball in Monmouth's po-ession on her own 35 yard ine.

Second Quarter.

Monmouth only had a half ard to go and made it for her er first down of the game. How-ver Illinois intercepted a forward ass and took the ball. Illinois as forced to kick and Monmouth fter trying to gain also punted. hurmon made first down on the eceiving end of a pass and a line lunge. Illinois then marched teadily down the field and Rodg-rs scored the touchdown, Cully icking goal.

Illinois kicked off and Mon-outh here played some of her est football of the afternoon aking three first downs with orward passes and line plays. inally Cully intercepted a for-ard pass and with good inter-ference ran 70 yards thru the whole Monmouth team for a touchdown and kicked goal. That was all the scoring as the half ended shortly after with the ball in Monmouth's possession.

Third Quarter

Monmouth kicked off to Cully who ran the ball back 35 yards to the center of the field. Illi nois kicked to Monmouth's five yard line. Monmouth kicked and Illinois carried the ball back by straight football for a touchdown, Rogers going over and Cully kick-ing the goal. There was no further scoring in the quarter, both teams being compelled to kick. It was Monmouth's ball on her 20 yard line when the whistle blew.

Fourth Quarter.

Monmouth was forced to kick soon after the quarter opened and several punts were exchanged Monmouth opened up, a series of forward passes and finally lost the ball when a pass back of the goal line failed. After another exchange of punts Illinois carried the ball straight down the field to the 20 yard line. Here Cully dropped back and booted a field goal from the thirty yard line.

Illinois was penalized for at-tempting to interfere with the re-ceiver of a pass. Monmouth got the ball within striking distance by a forward pass and then push-ed it over on line plays and kick-ed goal. It was so dark by this time that the players could not be distinguished but shortly after the kickoff time was called ending the game.

JACKSONVILLE PLAYS WAVERLY HIGH TODAY

Big County Game Will Be Played at Waverly—Both Teams Prepared for Hard Battle—Game Will Be Called at 2:30.

The big football classic of the year locally will be played at Waverly this afternoon when Jacksonville high clashes with Waverly high.

There is keen rivalry between the teams tho it is in a friendly spirit and the fans of the two towns show an excellent quality of sportsmanship. The winner of this annual game will be right-fully regarded as the champion of Morgan county.

Two years ago Waverly won the game which was played there. Last year on Illinois field Jacksonville took the contest. Tho-fore both teams will fight hard for victory his afternoon.

The students of both schools are agog with excitement over the contest. That is all that can be heard when students and former students gather. With good weather conditions this afternoon practically every student in the high school will be in Waverly when the game is called. From indications many citizens will also be present at the game. It is probable that Waverly will also turn out enmasse and there will be one of the largest crowds that ever attended a football game in Waverly. Coatch Mitchell and Coach Hufford have announced their probable lineups for the game:

YALE-PRINCETON GAME CLASSIC OF EAST

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—One inter-varsity classic and three inter-sectional contests feature the eastern football program this week-end. The Harvard-Princeton game with its traditions dating back to 1877, holds chief attention altho the Notre Dame-Army, Pittsburgh-Nebraska and Yale-Maryland battles all figure prominently because of the different sections of the country represented.

Among the more important of the home-and-home games are the Coluumbia-Cornell, LaFayette-Pennsylvania, Wesleyan-Amherst, Bucknell-Navy, Union-Williams, Lehigh-Muhlenberg, Rochester-ter-Colgate, Penn State-Carnegie

Princeton and Harvard, with a struggles.

Princeton and Harvard, with a record of two tie games in the last two years are expected to furnish much of the gridiron fireworks. Both universities will be represented by their strongest combinations, something that has been missing in the recent games of the two institutions. The Tigers, reinforced by their backfield stars, Lourie and Garrity, expect to present the steadiest lineup of year while the Crimson will face the Orange and Black with all its irregulars in the initial formation.

INTEREST CENTERS IN CHICAGO-OHIO BATTLE

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Victor of two inter-sectional football battles Chicago was prepared tonight to plunge again into the "Big Ten" championship race tomorrow meeting Ohio State here in the most important game in the mid-west. Both teams have gone thru the Western Conference season without a defeat. While chief interest centers in the Chicago-Ohio conflict, considerable interest also is attached between the meeting of the undefeated Iowa eleven and Minnesta at Minneapolis. Another "Big Ten" battle will bring together Northwestern and Purdue at LaFayette but both of these elevens have been upset in previous contests and little importance is attached to the outcome. Illinois, beaten in three of its conference games will clash with DePauw at Urbana. Otherwise the "Big Ten" machines will be idle, as Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana will rest up for important games a week hence.

Football observers were unwilling tonight to hazard a guess on the outcome of the Chicago-Ohio game, which will bring together two undefeated teams, both highly trained in the forward pass and fortified with powerful lines

The game will be witnessed by the biggest crowd that ever attended a football game in Chicago. All of the 30,000 reserved seats were sold a week ago. Scalpers are asking $10 and $15 for $4 box seats and $8 for $3 tickets.

EDUCATION FOR ALL IS WORTH WHILE GOAL

Informing Address To Rotarians Made at High School by Principal Shafer—Luncheon for Club Served in Cafeteria

Members of the Rotary club had the pleasure of yesterday of having their weekly luncheon at the cafeteria of the new high school. This was made possible by invitation of Supt. H. A. Perrin, a member of the club. The Rotarians were thus given an opportunity to observe at first hand the cafeteria in operation and many of them also inspected the building for the first time.

The address of the day was was made by Principal B. F. Shafer, of the high school, who had "Education for All," as his theme. The principal was introduced by Mr. Perrin, who had been presented by V. R. Riley, president of the club, as the chairman of the day. Mr. Perrin in introducing Mr. Shafer, said that he had come to have a very high regard for his co-worker in his efforts on behalf of the young people in the high school.

Before the address was given, Secretary Kopperl read a letter from L. T. Potter, of Dundee, a former member of the club. Among the guests of the day introduced were Fred Muhl and Fred Young, of Bloomington; M. R. Holt, of Chicago; Wallace Spink, of Havana; Messrs. Cogswell and Peyton, of Springfield; H. E. Read, of St. Louis; Charles S. Black, Col. Oscar Smith and Henry Muehlhausen, of Jacksonville.

A brief statement was made by Judge Samuell with reference to the playhouse opening Armistice day, and Rotarians were urged to give it their support.

Fine Cafeteria Service

The members of the club were not served at the cafeteria until after the regular pupil patrons had been given attention. The visitors were interested in finding the excellent quality of the food and the low prices charged for the service. The cafeteria is operated as part of the domestic science work, under the general direction of Miss Newman.

The serving is done by the pupils and a good variety of substantial food is offered each day. The cafeterias operated in connection with modern high schools have proven of great value in connection with both the health and work of the pupils. Those who do not live near the school are thus enabled to have a warm noon-day meal at a very small cost.

In connection with the address, typewritten sheets were distributed among the members of the audience, presenting some statistics to members, in a very pertinent way in answer to the question, "Does it pay to attend school?" These general facts are given elsewhere.

"If we travel about this great country of ours we see evidences of our belief in universal higher education. Traveling through out rural districts it is not uncommon to find magnificent high school buildings, and and we go into the cities we find that very elaborate means of education have been provided. All these are expressions of the interest of the American people in universal higher education.

"What is the source of this faith in higher education? I believe it comes from the under lying principles of our government. A government so constructed as ours can never hope to act any more intelligently than are the actions of those governed.

Finding Fault With Self.

"There is a tremendous responsibility placed upon the general public. A full comprehension of the expression of Abraham Lincoln when he alluded to the government as 'a government of the people for the people and by the people' points to this representation. From this statement it is clear that when a citizen is finding fault with the government he is merly finding fault with himself. We often ehar people complaining about their home town. They say it is dead, it is rotzens want. They may think othertown. They say it is dead, it is rotten and the like. The real trouble is with themselves. Such people themselves are in the advance stages of putrification.

"When a proposition has once been established by our established means—the ballot, it is what all good citizens want. They ma ythink otherwise and in such a case it is their duty to try to get the public generally to think as they do, but so long as the proposition remains established it is what they want enforced.

"In Washington's farewell address we find the following quotation: 'Promote then as an object of tremendous importance institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened.' One could go on and make extended quotations from all of our great national leaders, but these two will serve as examples.

A Place for All

"So long as a high school is a place where they teach Latin, algebra, and geometry and fill the students' minds with facts of science and history and that alone, I feel that the high school is not the place where we should encourage everybody to go.

"But if we think of a high school as a place where students are taught not history, where students are taught not Latin, and etc., then I claim there is a place in the high school for every boy and girl and that all should be compelled to attend if it is at all possible for them to do so. If they think of a high school as a place where young people may go and be trained in proportion as they show capacity for training, I am sure that it will be well worth the time of every one.

"In order to profitably continue the period of education for such a long period of years a great variety of subject matter must be provided. When our present popular conception of an education or a curriculum was formed there was not that great specialization in industry and production that we know today. Each man in the production of human wants, did many things and many of them were relatively simple. The scheme of education suited well those conditions. Now the entire system of production and distribution has been revolutionized. A scheme in its time may fail miserably in meeting the needs of some future period.

Some Ideals

"If we are to continue the school work of our boys and girls through the sixteenth and eighteenth years, we must face the facts. It will mean a much larger expenditure of money. Everyone knows how hard it is to obtain competent instruction with what is now alloted for educational purposes. Now the situation is such that the ambitious individual who gets into the profession soon realize that if they are going to support a family and live at all as it is expected that one should, they must either work up or work out. What a boon to education it would be if men and women could begin with teaching as their chosen profession and conscienciesly and enthusiastically prepare themselves for such.

"There are many cities where Junior colleges are being advocated and a few where they have been established. In my opinion such an addition to the tax burdens of the communities cannot be justified through merely a continuation of the old stuff. As the school period has been lengthened, the then operating curriculum has been stretched to cover the time. Just a little more mathematics, a little more English, a little more languages, a little history, and the like. Do not understand me to say these things are not worth while. They are eminently worth while but for only a limited few. When we begin to think of universal education we cannot justify such a long period of training in them. Many of these subjects were added to the curriculum for vocational reasons. But then the high schools were very selective and only a few students attended."

Need of Training.

"Concerning the necessity of different behavior training for citizenship, a volume of instances might be cited. The present trouble between the railroads and their employes, the walk out of the miners during the winter of 1919-20, uncovered garbage cans, the breaking of quarantine, the embezzlement of public funds, the records of the divorce courts, the present crime wave, all bear witness of this need of training in citizenship.

"It has always seemed to me that the advancement of science and industry has been so rapid and has so revolutionized our mode of living that, biologically speaking, many of our people have not been able to make the necessary adjustments of thought and action. Endless interdependency now exists where before there was independence. On every hand we find perfectly well meaning people doing things which we know would be avoided if they could see the consequences. It is hard for some people to see why the south should be interested in a good wheat crop in the north or why they should be taxed to promote scientific study of the disases or pests of the wheat crop.

Higher Education.

"Training in citizenship must, in addition to giving knowledge about government, and training in attitudes towards governments, bring to consciousness the interdependence of life of today and man's consequent responsibiilties. How this might be done I cannot aake the time to discuss. If only the guiding posts can be kept clearly in mind and used as a measuring stick in the evolution of subject matter we are not going to go far wrong. I feel certain it cannot best be done by a repetition of eram, eras, erat, ror, amavi, amavisti, amavit. Nor can it best be done through learning and demonstrating that 'If from the foot of a perpendicular to a plane a line is drawn perpendicular to any line in the plane; a line drawn from the intersection of this line with the line in the plane, to any point in the perpendicular to the plane, is perpendicular to the line in the plane.'

"Summarizing then, I would say, universal higher education through the 16th or 18th years seem to be and ought to be the motto of the American people. Our democratic form of government demands it. Such education should attempt to give a thorough knowledge of the fundamentals, ability to do effectively some kind of work, a thorough understanding of, and proficiency in citizenship."

DEPEW TELLS OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Noted Statesman in His Autobiography Tells of Visit Made to Great Emancipator in 1863.

NEW YORK—(By The Associated Press.)—Chauncey M Depew, former United States senator, in the opening installment of "Leaves From My Autobiography" in the November issue of Scribner's Magazine, a retrospection of his childhood, youth and public service covering a period of 80 years, tells some new anecdotes of Lincoln, Grant, Andrew, Johnson, Seward, Chase, Commodore Vanderbilt and other notable men of Civil War days.

"I had a long and memorable interview with President Lincoln," Mr. Depew writes of a visit he paid to Washington in 1863 when he was Secretary of State for New York. "As I stepped from the crowd in his reception room, he said to me: 'What do you want ' I answered, 'Nothing, Mr. President, I only came to pay my respects and bid you good bye, as I am leaving Washington. ' 'It is such a luxury,' he then remarked ' to find a man who does not want anything. I wish you would wait until I get rid of this crowd.'

"When we were alone he threw himself wearily on a lounge and was evidently greatly exhausted. Then he indulged, rocking backward and forward, in a reminiscent review of different crises in his administration and how he had met them. In nearly every instance he had carried his point, and either captured or beaten his adversaries by a story so apt, so on all fours, and with such complete answers that the controversy was over. I remember all of these stories, each of which was a victory."

Never Invented Yarns.

Lincoln was always on the lookout for a good yarn, altho he told Depew he never "invented" one. One night there was a reception in the Executive Mansion. Rufus C. Andrews, surveyor of the Port of New York and a confidential adviser of the President on New York affairs, attended the reception with Mr. Depew. As the procession of handshakers moved past, Lincoln stopped Andrews and, leaning over, spoke very confidentially to him, delaying the ceremonies for some time. Momentous issues were impending. Lincoln was in the midst of the campaign for renomination, his cabinet was inharmonious, the war was on and decisive battles were about to be fought. Newspapermen and politicians buttonholed Andrews on his return to his hotel. Mr. Depew writes: 'Andrews made a great mystery of his confidential conversation with Lincoln and so did the press. He explained to me when we were alone that during his visit to the President the night before he told Mr. Lincoln a new story. The President delayed him at the reception, saying 'Andrews, I forgot the point of that story you told me last night; repeat it now.' "

" 'I am accused of telling a great many stories,' " Mr. Depew quotes Lincoln, " 'They say that it lowers the dignity of the Presidential office, but I have found that plain people (repeating with emphasis plain people, take them as you find them, are more easily influenced by a broad and humorous illustration than in any other way and what the hypercritical few may think, I don't care.'

"In speaking Mr. Lincoln had a peculiar cadience in his voice, caused by laying emphasis upon the key-word of the sentence. In answer to the question how he knew so many anecdotes, he answered:

'I never invented a story but I have a good memory and, I think, tell one tolerably well. My early life was passed among pioneers who had the courage and enterprise to break away from civilization and settle in the wilderness. The things which happened to those original people and among themselves in their primitive conditions were far more dramatic than anything invented by the professional story tellers.

" 'For many years I travelled the circuit as a lawyer, and usually there was only one hotel in the county towns where court was held. The judges, the grand and petit juries, the lawyers, the clients and witnesses would pass the night telling exciting or amusing occurences and these were of infinite variety and interest.' "

Referring to Lincoln's adroitness in handling men and his personal humility, Mr. Depew said:

Inharmonious Cabinet.

"No President ever had a cabinet of which the members were so independent, had so large individual followings and were so inharmonious. The President's sole ambition was to secure the ablest men in the country for the departments which he assigned to them without regard to their loyalty to himself. One of Mr. Seward's secretaries would frequently report to me the acts of disloyalty or personal hostility on the part of Mr. Chase with the lament: 'The old man—meaning Lincoln—knows all about it and will not do a thing.' "

Mr. Depew tells how he started on a business career that finally brought him to the presidency of the New York Central railroad. He had just been nominated and confirmed as United States minister to Japan at $7,500 a year "and an outfit of $9,000." At the same time he had been offered the attorneyship for the New York and Harlem Railwayroad at less salary. When he told Commodore Vanderbilt about it, the commodore remarked: "Railroads are the career for a young man; there is nothing in politics. Don't be a damned fool."

That decided him and the result was that on January 1, 1921 Mr. Depew "rounded out 55 years in the railway service of this corporation and its allied lines."

The future Senator was admitted to the bar in 1858 and immediately opened an office in Peekskill, N. Y., his home town. His first client was a farmer who wanted an opinion on a complicated question. Young Depew "prepared the case with great care." The farmer asked him what his fee was and he said $5. His client replied: "A dollar and seventy-five cents is enough for a young lawyer like you." And Depew accepted it only to learn that the farmer had later gone to an older lawyer and paid $5.00 for the same advice.

"M. W."

It is not the custom to confer the degree of M. W. on the man who is a Master of Wiring, but it ought to be. Then you'd know what calibre of man to select for the job and what kind of wiring you'd get as the result.

Although no university has ever conferred the degree of M. W. on us and probably never will, our experience easily enables us to adopt these two letters as our token of reliability.

Whether M. W. appears after our name or not we indelibly stamp it on the wiring and on the electrical work which we conscientiously do.

DEATH OF RUTH BROCKHOUSE

With much sorrow we are again called upon to chronicle the death of another loved one. Ruth Brockhouse, who was taken so suddenly from a happy home on Thursday morning, November 3 at 3 o'clock. She had not been very strong all of this summer but was able to be up and around the house all the time and also to ride with members of the family at any time she chose. On Wednesday she was taken seriously ill and passed away at the hour mentioned above. She was a daughter of Lewis and Ida Anderson Brockhouse and was born March 14, 1898, and died November 3, 1921. She was twenty-three years, and eight months of age at the time of her death. Her disposition was very cheerful and she had a smile for all her friends and she was always a loving obedient daughter and a kind sister. Her religion was enjoyable and satisfying and her death was peaceful and triumphant. Her last words on earth before she fell asleep in Jesus was repeating all of the Lord's prayer. She loved her home and took very little interest in the gaiety and frivolties of the world. She will be sadly missed in her home where she was ever ready to help and cheer her loved ones. She leaves to mourn her loss, a father, three brothers, Frank, Ray, and two sisters, Miss Nergerrah and Leona at home, beside a host of other relatives and friends. Funeral services were conducted from the family home 12 o'clock Saturday, November 5, interment will be in Jordan cemetery.

She is now with the Savior,
In bright realms of glory,
She has met her dear Father
Upon the green shore
To dwell there forever
Where sickness and sorrow
Where pain and all sufferings
Will hurt her no more.

PRICE OF LIBERTY BONDS ADVANCES

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Trading in bonds again overshadowed dealings in all other securities on the stock exchange today. Various domestic and foreign issues floated during the war registered highest prices for a year or more.

Liberty bonds and Victory notes continued to move forward under the impetus given the investment demand by nationwide indications of easier credit conditions. Most of the Liberty series to their new higher records, showed extreme gains of 10 to 100 points. Victory 3¾c were at their maximum for the year and Victory 4¾s duplicated yesterday's record quotation of par.

Among the foreign bonds—many of which suffered acute depression while the war was in an uncertain stage — today's strength was most marked in French government eights and Belgian government 1½s these gaining 1¾ and 3 points, respectively.

Other European bonds including many municipal issues displayed notable strength and Chilean government eights sold at premium over yesterday's subscription price.

Railroad bonds and similar issues of domestic companies only moderately better, reflecting the uncertain tone of the stock market. Total sales (par value) $28,250,000.

Dealings in stocks were altogether governed by technical conditions. Issues in which the short interest was believed to be dominant moved hesitatingly but became heavy in the final hour then call money rose from five to 5½ per cent. Sales amounted to 541,000 shares.

The foreign exchanges were featured by another slump in German marks.

UPTURN IN THE PRICE OF WHEAT

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Upturns in the price of wheat took place today helped by Victory bonds at par and by predictions of frost in Argentina. Closing quotations of wheat, altho unsettled, were 1¾c to 2¼c net higher with December $1.01 to $1.01¼ and May $1.06 to $1.06½. Corn gained ⅝ to 1¼c and oats ⅛ to ⅝ to ¾c. Provisions finished unchanged to 20c higher. At first the wheat market showed a downward tendency, the result of an accumulation of over night orders to sell. The fact however, that values had broken eleven cents a bushel within a week caused a reaction to be looked for in many quarters and the question was raised whether any considerable part of the United States exportable surplus remained to be disposed of estimates being current that 20,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels sold to the seaboard were yet to be shipped. Par for victory bonds gave the wheat market a decided stimulus at this juncture. Despatches saying the Argentine wheat crop was at a critical stage and that frost was looked for tonight counted also in favor of the bulls. On the other hand, gossip about disturbed foreign financial conditions appeared to be acting as more or less of a check on the advance. Corn and oats rallied with wheat. Rural offerings of corn were light. More attention was given to the movement fostered by bankers and government officials to aid farmers in holding corn for better prices.

Provisions reflected the firmness of hogs values.

DUNN'S REPORT WILL SAY TODAY

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"Response to the constructive forces in the economic situation does not come quickly but evidences of revival multiply. The recovery would be more rapid if fewer restraints were present yet the gain is fairly steady and there is promise of its continuance. A further lowering of money rates this week reflecting the strengthened banking position, is an encouraging factor, and a lessening of price unsettlement makes for more confident operations in different quarters. While all statistical barometers do not reveal the improvement in business records of production in several basic industries are distinctly better and a larger employment of manufacturing capacity tends to reduce the volume of idle labor. The latter is still of such proportions as to exert a potent influence on the public purchasing power, but retail distribution is somewhat stimulated as winter approaches, and offerings of goods at prices satisfactory to consumers are being absorbed with considerable freedom."

Weekly bank clearings $6,831,650,000.

YEGGS GET LOOT IN MILTON BANK

Pike County Institution Yields $2,200 to Robbers—Cut All Telephone Wires Before Starting to Work

Yeggs looted the Milton Farmers' State bank of $2,200 between 2:30 and 3 o'clock Thursday morning. Three charges of explosives wrecked the vault and the interior of the building, this being the fourth Pike county bank robbery in the last two months.

Before beginning operations on the vault the yeggs cut all telegraph and telephone wires leading out of the city, with the result that the village was without communication until nearly daylight, when a temporary cable was rigged up.

Merle Hoover, cashier of the bank, estimated the loss to be about $2,200. The thieves did not disturb any bonds.

Persons living near the bank were awakened by the explosion but feared to risk their lives without an organized effort to stop the robbers. It was fully an hour after the yeggs had departed in their car before the residents ventured to congregate at the wrecked bank. It is reported that a finger print expert has been called from St. Louis to investigate the robbery.

The Milton bank is the property of C. E. Bolton, a former state representative, who is well known in Jacksonville and vicinity.

HOBART WILLIAMS DIED AT EASTERN HOME

A brief telegraphic item in the Journal yesterday told of the death of Hobart Williams, aged millionaire resident of Cheshire, Conn. Possibly the word "millionaire" should not be applied to Mr. Williams, because he had divested himself of his wealth, having distributed more than $10,000,000 to philanthropic and educational institutions. It will be remembered that Illinois college was one of the five colleges in this state to be included in Mr. Williams' benefactions and received an addition of $200,000 to the endowment fund for scholarship uses.

President Rammelkamp at the chapel exercises at Illinois college yesterday made appropriate reference to the death of Mr. Williams and what his gift to the college had meant.

The president said that in the five years since the money was contributed to the college that nearly 400 students had received financial help and because of the fund had been enabled to attend the institution. With so much good done in a comparatively short time the president said that it was easy to understand how much in an educational way would be accomplished by the Williams millions with passing years.

This thought is well emphasized when it is taken into account that Illinois college is only one of the institutions helped financially. At the time that Mr. Williams arranged for this distribution of his millions he gave fully half of his fortune to Chicago university and made handsome bequests to the Y. M. C. A. and some other Chicago institutions.

It was provided that he should receive a small annuity from the income of the funds he created, in order to maintain a sufficient amount to meet his ordinary expenditures. Further provision was made that at the time of his death the payment of this annuity fund should cease, so that now a still larger sum will be available for the educational and financial work to which Mr. Williams devoted his great estate.
